

of his dragoons, dismounted ; and its fatal consequence to the Major, was in a great measure owing to his having on a white blanket surstuoat. He was easily distinguished by the Indians, and received three balls in his body ; he immediately fell, exclaiming, " I am a dead man ;" he was taken up and lived, however, till the close of the action. The fall of this brave and amiable officer was greatly lamented by the army as well as the citizens of the state of Kentucky, where he held the office of Attorney General. He volunteered his services in the expedition under Gen. Harrison, who, knowing his worth, appointed him to the command of the volunteer dragoons.

Col. Owen, another brave officer, considerably advanced in years, and acting as aid-de-camp was shot from his horse by the side of the General, and immediately expired. Judge Taylor, the other aid, had his horse shot under him ; in their fall the horse came on top of the Judge, where he lay confined for some time, unable to extricate himself ; he was relieved from this disagreeable situation by a soldier, who happened to pass near him.
